MR. HOAR'S ARGUMENT

Against the Impending Policy of Territorial Expansion.

BASED ON CONSTITUTION.

Will the Flag Be Hauled Down From Independence Hall?

QUOTATIONS FROM PRESIDENT.

The Massachusetts Statesman Makes a Lengthy Reply to Senator Platt of Connecticut Against Retaining the Philippine Islands.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The galleries of the senate were well filled, many persons being attracted by the announcement that Mr. Hoar (Mass.) would discuss Mr. Vest's anti-expansion resolution.

Mr. Hoar began a discussion of the constitutional phases of the question involved in the resolution, prefacing his argument with a statement of his personal position on the subject.

"I am quite sure," said he in beginning, "that no man who will hear what I say will doubt that nothing could induce me to speak but a commanding sense of public duty. I dislike to differ from the president, whose election I hailed with such personal satisfaction, and such exulting anticipations for the republic.

"Certainly, Mr. President, no man can ever justly charge me with a lack of faith in my countrymen, or a lack of union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

"When the senator from Connecticut undertakes to declare," said Mr. Hoar, "that we may do such things not for the perfect union, the common defense, the general welfare of the people of the United States of America, or the securing of liberty to ourselves and our children, but for any fancied or real objection to take care of distant peoples beyond our boundaries, not people of the United States, then I deny his proposition and tell him he can find nothing either in the text of the constitution, or the exposition of the fathers, or the judgments of courts from that day to this, to warrant or support his doctrine.

"We have heard of limited monarchies, constitutional monarchies, despotisms tempered by assassinations; but the logic of the senator from Connecticut makes a pure, unlimited, untempered despotism, without any relief from assassins."

"The power which Mr. Platt maintained was one," Mr. Hoar said, "that our fathers and their descendants have ever loathed and abhorred, and they believed that no sovereign on earth could rightfully exercise it."

He said that while Mr. Platt had admitted that governments derived their just powers from the consent of "some of the governed," he did not understand that in subjugating and governing the Philippines Mr. Platt proposed to get the consent of any of them."

Mr. Hoar was inclined to ridicule those who favor expansion, and the ratification of the treaty of Paris without amendment.

Their arguments," he said, were: "Three cheers for the flag! Who will dare to haul it down? Hold on to everything you can. America has outgrown Americanism."

More Argument For Slavery.

Mr. Hoar then entered upon a critical analysis of Mr. Platt's speech. After summarizing the argument he said: "The constitutional argument for slavery was ten times as strong as the argument of the senator from Connecticut. The slaveholder said he owned men for their good. The senator from Connecticut proposes to own nations for their good.

"The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states, respectively, or to the people"—Amendment, Article X.

"The power to conquer alien peoples and hold them in subjugation is nowhere implied as necessary for the accomplishment of the purposes declared by the constitution.

"It is clearly shown to be one that ought not to be exercised by anybody—one that the framers of the constitution thought ought not to be exercised by anybody.

"First—Because it is immoral and wicked in itself.

"Second—Because it is expressly denied in the Declaration of Independence, the great interpreter and expounder of the meaning of the constitution, which owes its origin to the same generation and largely to the same men.

"It is affirmed that it is immoral and unfit to be exercised by anybody—in numerous instances by contemporary state constitutions and the contemporary writers and authorities on public law, who expressed the opinion of the American people in that generation, who adopted the constitution as well as of the men who framed it."

Authorities Cited.

In support of his interpretation of the constitution, Mr. Hoar cited numerous authorities, among them Charles Sumner, Justice Matthews and Justice Brewer.

In the course of his appeal to senators, Mr. Hoar said: "When you raise the flag over the Philippine islands as an emblem of dominion and acquisition, you take it down from Independence Hall."

He quoted the statement of Louis Napoleon made in 1854, that "the time of conquest is past, never to return, for it is not by extending the boundaries of its territory that a nation can henceforth be honored and powerful, but by placing itself at the head of generous ideas and spreading everywhere the empire of right and justice," and added: "Napoleon forgot what he had said when he grew a little stronger."

"A year ago last December, the president of the United States sent a message to congress. In that message he said: 'I speak not of forcible annexation, because that is not to be thought of and under our code of morality that would be criminal aggression.'

Napoleon's Statement.

"The time of conquest is past," said Louis Napoleon. Ah, President McKinley, but repeated Louis Napoleon, though in louder and clearer voice.

"President McKinley, when he spoke, was not thinking even of honor or power, inspiring and alluring as are honor and power. He placed himself and placed the American people on the stern, enduring and perpetual rock of righteousness; that forcible annexation is not to be thought of under our code of morality; that would be criminal aggression.

"Who shall haul him down? Who shall haul down the code? Who shall haul down the president?"

Mr. Hoar dwelt with emphasis upon the large increase in national expenditure which the policy of expansion advocated by Mr. Platt would entail, placing sum at $150,000,000 annually.

In conclusion, Mr. Hoar said he could not agree "That the lesson of the last hundred years is that the Declaration of Independence and the constitution are a failure, and that America is to begin the twentieth century where Spain began the sixteenth.

"The Monroe doctrine is gone. Every European nation, every European alliance has the right to acquire dominion in this hemisphere when we acquire it in the other."

"Mr. President, this spasm of folly and delusion also, in my judgment, will surely pass by. Whether it pass by or no, I thank God I have done my duty, and that I have adhered to the great doctrines of righteousness and freedom, which I learned from my fathers and in whose service my life has been spent."

BANK VAULT WRECKED.

Interior of the Building Badly Damaged By Dynamite.

Ashburnham, Mass., Jan. 9.—The safe of the First National bank of Ashburnham was blown to pieces by dynamite about 2 a. m. The interior of the bank was badly wrecked, and all windows are blown out. A sum of money estimated at from $1,500 to $2,000 is missing. There is no clue to the robbers.

Deputy Sheriff William H. Richardson, whose home is next to the bank building was awakened by the shock of a heavy explosion which made the house tremble and windows rattle. Locating the source of the explosion, he at once gave the alarm.

The bank is on the second floor of a 2-story brick building. The street door of the main entrance had been forced open with a jimmy, and a similar process was applied to the door of the bank upstairs.

The burglars evidently charged the iron safe heavily with dynamite, for the safe had been blown to pieces. Two of its doors were found half-way across the room and a bar of iron had been blown through a window and nearly across the street.

All the windows in the place were demolished and the furniture was badly splintered. A large quantity of notes and drafts and about $100 in money was found scattered about the floor. Cashier Sawyer estimates that the robbers took at least $1,500, perhaps the plunder may amount to $2,000.

The damage to the building is about $2,000. It is not believed a large quantity of notes or drafts were taken.

From the havoc created, it is judged that the burglars' knowledge of safe-blowing was limited.

The authorities have in mind the work done recently by burglars at the Bethel (Me.) Savings bank, the Wrentham National bank, the Phoenix National bank of Phenix, R. I., and a Vermont bank within the past few months, although there is nothing in the line of positive evidence to show that all these banks were visited by the same men.

Another Bank Robbed.

Rock Rapids, Ia., Jan. 9.—The Farmers' bank of Inwood has been robbed of $2,000. The vault was entered and the safe was blown open.

Bounty For Farmers.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota, who introduced the amendment to the Hanna-Payne subsidy bill, providing for an export bounty of $2 per ton on agricultural products, says that there are sent abroad about 17,000,000 tons of agricultural products yearly, which would be subject to the bounty.

Over an Embankment.

Pittsburg, Jan. 9.—A Monongahela traction car became unmanageable near Duquesne, Pa., and went over a 25-foot embankment near Rankin bridge. When the car toppled over the stove upset and several passengers were burned. All will recover.

Transferred to Washington.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Telegraphic orders were received at army headquarters transferring Colonel Asa B. Carey, chief paymaster of the department of the lakes, to Washington. He may succeed General T. H. Stanton, who retired Jan. 30 as chief paymaster.

Will Attend the Ball.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—General Joseph Wheeler and General Wesley Merritt accepted invitations to attend the Knights Templar charity ball here.

PRESIDENT CHISHOLM

Series That American Steel Company Has Purchased His Plant.

Cleveland, Jan. 9.—President William Chisholm of the Cleveland Rolling Mill company states that all reports to the effect that the rolling mill plant has passed into the control of the American Steel Wire company are untrue. The American company is alleged to have secured control through the purchase of large blocks of stock. Mr. Chisholm said: "No deal has yet been made with the American Steel and Wire company. Nothing will be done in the matter until after the annual meeting of the Rolling Mill company, which will be held soon."

New Incorporations.

Columbus, O., Jan. 9.—The Ashtabula Baseball company, Ashtabula, capital stock $1,000; the Cincinnati Bicycle Club company, Cincinnati, capital stock $1,000; the Metcalf-Snyder Manufacturing company, Dayton, capital stock $10,000; the Beardsley & Hubbs Company, Mansfield, capital stock $20,000; the Piqua Underwear company, Piqua, capital stock $25,000.

Another Foreclosure Suit.

Cincinnati, Jan. 9.—Another suit to foreclose mortgages on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railway was brought in the United States court. This is by the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of New York.

Bert Williamson Sentenced.

Chillicothe, O., Jan. 9.—Bert Williamson, 17, was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. Williamson killed John Mitchell at a dance last July.

Death of Mr. Nye.

Marietta, O., Jan. 9.—A. T. Nye, president of the Citizens' National bank, and an extensive stove manufacturer died from cerebral hemorrhage.

Views of Father Diaz.

San Francisco, Jan. 9.—Father Diaz, leader of the 10 Spanish priests from Manila who are in this city on the way to Panama, says: "The Filipinos are not naturally warlike, and would not be now opposing the United States were it not for the leaders who are spurring them on. These leaders are in the work solely for personal gain and would prove hard masters for the weaker portion of the natives should they gain the power. At Iloilo, where I was stationed, there would have been little fighting if it had not been for these malcontents, who fairly forced the natives to take up arms."

Fugitives May Disagree.

New York, Jan. 9.—Some uneasiness has developed among patrons of boxing, owing to the attitude assumed by Kid McCoy on the question of hitting in clinches. McCoy says that under clause 13 of the articles which Sharkey and he signed for the fight Tuesday, neither can hit while the other has hold of him, and that the holding constitutes a clinch. McCoy's position is said to be at variance with an express understanding between the two men at the time the articles were signed.

Call For Hanly's Defeat.

Indianapolis, Jan. 9.—With the Republican caucus to nominate a candidate for United States senator only 24 hours off, the situation has no new aspect of significance. The managers of the candidacy of J. Frank Hanly, who have been kept busy for several days denying stories put in circulation were slightly disconcerted early in the day on account of an appearance of an editorial in the party organ calling on the caucus to defeat Hanly.

Rostand's Deposition to Be Taken.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—The attorneys for the defendants in the Cyrano de Bergerac case appeared in the United States district court and asked for a postponement of the temporary injunction proceedings. The request was granted by Judge Grosscup and the lawyers for both sides were told to agree upon a commission to take the deposition of M. Rostand, the author of "Cyrano," in France.

To Buy Franchises.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Notice was served upon Mayor Harrison of the intention of a syndicate to present a petition to the city council asking for authority to buy the various street railway franchises as they expire.

Blythe Case Dismissed.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The United States supreme court dismissed the case of the Blythe company versus Blythe, involving the Blythe estate of California. No written opinion was filed in the case.

St Paul Overdue.

New York, Jan. 9.—The overdue American line steamer St. Paul has not yet been sighted. The St. Paul left Southampton on Jan. 1 and was due here Friday evening to equal her record.

Detroit, Jan. 9.—Company A, Seventh United States Infantry, left Fort Wayne for its assigned station, at Walker Lake, Minn.

NO BALLOT WAS TAKEN

For President by Delegates at the Miners' Convention.

A PROTRACTED DISCUSSION.

Objection Is Raised to the Attempt of President Ratchford to Appoint the Members of the Credentials Committee.

Pittsburg, Jan. 9.—The delegates to the tenth annual national convention of the United Mine Workers of America were slowly in arriving at Old City hall.

National President M. D. Ratchford delivered his annual address. About 600 delegates from 13 states were then in their seats.

It was the largest and most representative gathering of miners ever held and the convention will continue throughout the week and promises to be the most important in the history of the mine workers' organization.

Immediately after the opening of the session a dispute arose between President Ratchford and District President Dolan over the appointment of the credentials committee, and the entire session was taken up with an acrimonious discussion as to the right of the chairman to name the committee. At 1:30 p. m. the convention adjourned for the day without having taken a ballot for the new officers.

Four candidates are to be placed in nomination for president, as follows: John Mitchell of Illinois, Patrick Dolan of Pennsylvania, Thomas L. Lewis of Ohio, and James Clotworthy of West Virginia.

Among the important questions to be considered during the convention are an advance in wages, an 8-hour work day and the general adoption of the run-off mine system.

These questions will be decided upon for presentation for adoption at the joint interstate convention of coal operators and miners to be held here next week to arrange the interstate wage agreement for the ensuing year, beginning April 1, 1899.

At the last national convention but five states, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Illinois, were represented.

At this convention additional states sending delegates are Alabama, Kansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Michigan, Iowa, Arkansas and Indian territory.

The delegates in attendance represent over 100,000 miners.

THREAT OF GERMAN CONSUL

Unless Private Debts Are Paid Savao Island Will Be Seized.

Melbourne, Jan. 9.—Advices received here from the Tonga islands, via Auckland, New Zealand, say that the German consul has arrived there from Samoa and has given notice that Germany will seize Savao, the most fertile of the Tonga group, unless the Tongan government pays private debts which the natives owe to a German company. The government, however, repudiates the responsibility, and says the giving of credit to the natives was contrary to law. The king is appealing to Great Britain, the United States and France. The Tonga islands are a group in the Pacific ocean.

Highwaymen Among Hotel Guests.

Fort Scott, Kan., Jan. 9.—Two masked men captured a policeman, took him a mile into the woods, bound and gagged him, and with rare coolness held up and robbed nine men in the Cottage House and the Sayres House, two hotels on prominent business streets. Alfred Meade, an engineer on the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis, one of the victims, was shot by one of the robbers, and George H. Young, a colored man, was mistaken for one of them and shot. Several hours after the robbery the police identified the bandits as they boarded the St. Louis bound Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train and had a pitched battle with them, but they got away.

Legislation For Alaska Desired.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Governor Brady of Alaska has arrived here to urge territorial matters. He is anxious for the enactment of the Carter bill, which has passed the senate and is now in committee in the house, making three judicial districts in Alaska. He says even then the judicial provisions will be inadequate, and that there should be greater appropriations also for administrative purposes, pointing out that the marshal is unable to make any arrests on any of the numerous islands for lack of transportation funds or facilities, and that the governor has no funds for going about the territory.

New York, Jan. 9.—Richard Tweed, 75, brother of William M. Tweed, is dead at his home in Brooklyn. Mr. Tweed took no part in politics.

SENATOR GEORGE F. HOAR.

faith in the principles on which the republic is founded. I have in the fullest measure that which stands as the central figure in the mighty group which the apostle says is forever to abide—hope. I thank God that as my eyes grow dim they look out on a fairer country, a better people, a brighter future.

Speaking on Constitution.

"It is not my purpose, of course, to discuss the general considerations which affect any acquisition of sovereignty by the American people over the Philippine islands, which has been or may be proposed. I am speaking only of the theory of constitutional interpretation propounded by the senator from Connecticut (Mr. Platt). If at any time hereafter the senator shall seek to put his theories into practice by reducing to subjection a distant people; dwelling in the tropics, aliens in blood; most of them Moslem in faith, incapable to speak or comprehend our language, or to read or to write any language, to whom the traditions of civil liberty are unknown, it will be time to point out what terrible results and penalties this departure from our constitutional principles will bring upon us."

Mr. Hoar said that our fathers who framed the constitution were the wisest builders of states the world has yet seen. They had studied ancient history, and had learned that while there is little else that a democracy can not accomplish, it can not rule over vassal states or subject peoples without bringing the elements of death into its own constitution.

Mr. Hoar then quoted Mr. Platt as saying: "As a nation, it possesses every sovereign power not reserved in its constitution to the states or to the people. The right to acquire territory was not reserved, and is therefore an inherent sovereign right. In the right to acquire territory is found the right to govern it, and as the right to acquire is a sovereign, inherent right, the right to govern is a sovereign right not limited in the constitution."

Quotes the Constitution.

These propositions of Mr. Platt, Mr. Hoar expressly denied. He affirmed that every constitutional power is limited to the one supreme and controlling purpose declared in the constitution itself: "In order to form a more perfect

Kentucky—Light rain, east to northeast winds.

The Continental Tobacco trust paid the State of Ohio over $10,000 for the privilege of doing business in that State. Of course the trust will eventually make the grower and consumer foot the bill.

The Cigar Makers Union of Cincinnati resolved Sunday against the annexation of the Philippines. In conclusion they say:

"We hold the Republican party to its oft-repeated promises of 'Protection to American workmen against the pauper labor of the Old World,' as we can not complete with the 35,000 cigar makers of the Philippine Islands, who receive from 5 to 15 cents per day for their labor."

But why should they worry? Some of our smart Republican statesmen will probably devise a scheme to prevent these 35,000 Philippine cigar makers, if they become citizens, from competing with their fellow workmen on this side of the globe.

The distillers of Kentucky are also going after the insurance combine. They demand reduced rates on whisky insurance on three grounds, as follows:

That the losses suffered by the insurance companies by reason of fires in warehouses do not justify the rate charged.

That the rate of insurance is kept up by a combination against the laws of the State.

That the rate charged in Kentucky for distillery warehouses is in some cases over 100 per cent. more than is charged by the same companies for similar property in other cities and States.

The courts have been called upon to say whether the combine shall longer do business in Kentucky, and the result of the indictments at Frankfort is awaited with interest.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Jan. 6.—This city has spent on the streets in the past thirteen years $101,145.15, and now the taxpayers are kicking for brick or asphalt streets.

The above is a special to the Cincinnati Post. Of course everybody would like to see better streets, and if the citizens of Maysville are willing to pay for them and will present the necessary petition, we feel sure Council will promptly order the improvement. But, the Court of Appeals recently decided that the improvement of streets must be paid for by the abutting property owners. Whether this ruling applies to fourth class cities we do not know, but it very probably does apply, and it will be well to bear this in mind while discussing the question. Unquestionably modern asphalt or brick streets would prove a big saving to the taxpayers in the long run.

The Pittsburg Post says the "common street remark of good Republicans about President McKinley's speeches at the South is that he is 'jolly' the Southerners nicely." This is very unkind in them not to take his remarks seriously. The Post, however, thinks there is a great deal of truth in what they say, and adds:

The President has taken the stump for imperialism, and to win support to make good elections at the North of such Senators as Hoar, Morrill, Hale, Spooner and others, has turned to the ex-Confederates for backing. This is precisely what his gushing oratory means. It sounds well and is naturally held in great favor at the South. It is doing that sort of justice they have been demanding down there for years to the heroes of the lost cause. We have no fault to find with it. Only with a race question of tremendous proportions on their hands, the Southern people are not likely to look for another at the Philippines. Besides there are kicks at the North at President McKinley's ardor, and a proposed plan to practically pension Confederate soldiers, it is generally intimated, conflicts with the war amendments. Some of Mr. McKinley's speeches are of the low-grade stump order in the way of misrepresenting the opponents of the Imperial system of colonies as willing to surrender the Philippine Islands to anarchy. This is unworthy the President of the United States; it is shyster politics.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on J. J. Wood & Son, druggists, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50 cents and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

DEPUTY WARDEN ED. F. McGRATH, of the Frankfort penitentiary, died at 2 o'clock Sunday morning after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases. Bright's disease was the immediate cause of death. He left an estate of from $20,000 to $25,000.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Pure Milk is Nature's Own Food.

Scientific writers say that milk produced from mud puddles and stagnant ponds is unfit for use, as it is liable to produce bacteria and disease, and so ought not to be used, especially by children.

We are pleased to acknowledge that our efforts to furnish pure milk, butter and cream have been appreciated, and that our work and enormous expenditures in obtaining a herd of sixty registered Jerseys of the best strains, buying modern improvements for handling milk, arranging pools of pure running water, and taking proper care of the cows, have not been in vain. We have recently erected galvanized tanks in which we catch the water in its purity, and from our miniature water works and pools of fresh water our cows have water good enough for queens. Our increased trade has forced us to place two wagons on our route, so that we may make deliveries on better time.

Orders given to drivers for milk will receive prompt attention. Thanking the public for an appreciation of our efforts to furnish clean, pure and healthy milk. Respectfully, A. R. GLASCOCK & SON.

An Amusing Incident in Which the Masonic Lodge at Paris Figures—Didn't Discover the Intruder.

[Paris Kentuckian.]

An amusing incident happened at the Masonic Lodge in this city on December 27th, and it has just leaked out. Tuesday is the regular meeting night of the A. O. U. W.'s, and W. G. Swearingen, who had only attended two meetings of his lodge since his initiation, concluded to attend on the 27th. At 7 o'clock he was on hand, and a few minutes after the lodge was called to order. He noticed that the brothers all put on white aprons and ho put on one too. He didn't remember ever seeing this done in his lodge before, but as he had not attended for some time, concluded that it was something new. The lodge was declared open for business, and when the presiding officer asked Bro. Wallace Mitchell if all present were entitled to remain, he said they were. Business proceeded, the election of officers took place. Bro. Swearingen voted, and the meeting finally adjourned. Walking down street Bro. Swearingen met Bro. Wm. Schrofe and told him about attending a meeting of the Workmen; Bro. Schrofe said he was mistaken; that there had been no meeting of that lodge; Bro. Swearingen was willing to back up his words with a $2 bet, which was readily accepted, and when Bro. Schrofe told Bro. Swearingen that the Workmen had given up the lodge room for the night to the Masons on account of it being St. John's day, Bro. Swearingen was shocked, and was willing to bet that he was the only man that ever attended a Masonic meeting before he had been initiated.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there is no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

THE LATE DR. HAYS.

The Citizens of Maysville and the Pastor's Union Pay Touching Tributes to the Deceased.

The First Presbyterian Church was crowded Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, on the occasion of the funeral of Rev. Dr. Hays, who had so long and so faithfully served as its pastor. In the face of the heavy snow storm that prevailed, the assembling of such a large crowd was a touching manifestation of the love and esteem in which deceased was held by the best people of the city.

Rev. Mr. Waller was unable to be present to assist in the services. Rev. Dr. John Barbour officiated, and in his discourse paid a beautiful tribute to the deceased, as a citizen, a teacher and preacher.

During his remarks Dr. Barbour read the following tribute to deceased from the pastors of the city:

At a special meeting of the Pastor's Union of the city of Maysville, held on the 9th day of January, 1899, called to take action in regard to the death of the Rev. John S. Hays, D. D., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WITHEAS, In the Providence of God, our senior brother, the Rev. Dr. Hays, has been removed by death, we hereby desire to place on record our sense of the great loss our city, the churches therein, this body and the community at large have sustained. We gratefully and affectionately note his long pastorate of over thirteen years, successfully maintained under the difficulty of great personal affliction; his unflinching stand as a Christian citizen in favor of all things right and just; his fidelity to the faith as revealed in the Bible as the Word of God; his interest in and labor for the cause of Christian education in our midst, and last his courtesy and fidelity as the presiding officer of this organization during the entire period of its existence.

In view of these things, and as witness of our personal esteem for him as a preacher of God's Word, a citizen, a friend and a man, be therefore Resolved, That we will attend his funeral as a body. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and friends, and that the same be published in the papers of the city.

D. D. CHAPIN,
F. W. HARROP,
J. C. MOLLOY,

J. W. PORTER,
GEORGE E. RAFF,
HOWARD T. CREE.

Messrs. A. M. J. Cochran, R. A. Cochran, John C. Pecor, James Childs, Orlando Cox and C. P. Traxel officiated as pallbearers.

The remains were taken to Danville this morning for interment. Among those who accompanied the remains were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barbour, Misses Florence, Fannie and Carrie Hays and Postmaster Mathews. Mrs. Hays was unable to be present at the funeral or to make the trip, on account of illness. She is suffering from nervous prostration.

THERE were four funerals in this city Monday.

COUNTY CLERK C. L. WOOD was better last night.

Miss RUTH ALLENDER is ill at her home on West Third street.

THE L. and N. earned $2,099,004 in November, an increase of $257,354.

THERE were four additions Sunday to the Central Presbyterian Church.

JUDGE PUGH has the thanks of the BURLIN for the Congressional Record.

FOR SALE.—Home place of Mrs. George T. Wood. Apply to F. Devine, agent.

MR. CHARLES F. TAYLOR returned last evening to his home at Rome, Georgia.

WILLIAM MCKIBBEN, aged fifty-two, a tinner and stove dealer, died Monday at Augusta.

MR. JOHN LARKIN gave a pleasant entertainment last evening at his home south of Washington.

COMMANDERY No. 89, Knights of St. John, will meet this evening at 7 o'clock. By order of the President.

JENNIE LEWIS, colored, a daughter of Ad. Lewis, died Monday at 2 o'clock of consumption. Funeral Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Scott Chapel.

BICYCLE season opened well yesterday at Kackley & Co.'s. They sold two Cleveland wheels at $75 each. Now is the time to place your order.

MR. ENOCH POWELL, of Covington, is seriously ill. His wife who was here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Means, was summoned home Sunday.

REV. DR. JOHN BARBOUR was this morning authorized by the County Court to perform the marriage ceremony and gave the required bond, with Mr. W. D. Cochran as surety.

MRS. ELIZABETH RAND, aged fifty-two, wife of Rev. Joseph Rand, formerly a Presiding Elder of the Kentucky Conference, M. E. Church, died Monday at Lexington after months of suffering.

The Deposit Bank of Millersburg filed articles Monday reducing its capital stock from $27,000 to $15,000. The Grayson County Bank, of Litchfield, increased its capital stock from $10,000 to $15,000.

C. F. SIMONDS, formerly of Lexington, whose death at Norwich Connecticut, was mentioned last week, met with a very tragic end. Late at night he ascended to the roof of the six-story hotel where he was stopping and either jumped or fell off.

MR. PETER BROOKOVER, who resides a mile or so above Aberdeen, accidentally shot himself Monday. He took hold of his gun by the muzzle and in drawing it towards him discharged the weapon in some way, the lead badly wounding his hand and arm as far up as the elbow. He will lose two of his fingers.

Another Death at Germantown.

Mrs. Joseph Armbruster, of Germantown, died last evening, of consumption. The funeral will occur to-morrow at 2 p. m., Revs. W. D. Welburn and E. A. Ulrich officiating. Her husband and one daughter, aged eleven, survive. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. H. B. Galbraith, one of Bracken County's leading citizens.

A STATEMENT of the Union Trust Company is published elsewhere. It shows a surplus of $4,000 and undivided profits of over $400.

LIKE WILDFIRE

The news of Hechinger's Fire Sale in his Sutton Street Storeroom spread over this and adjoining counties.

The opportunity to buy good clothing at half the manufacturer's cost proved a blessing to many whose pocketbooks were not plethoric and yet needed heavy clothing.

Good All-Wool Men's Suits at $3.50 to $5.

Splendid Chinchilla, Irish Frieze and Beaver Ulsters, cut extra long, splendidly lined and made, are not often, as in this case, picked up at from $3.50 to $7; the latter price buys an English Beaver Overcoat, (they come in blue, brown and black colors) that a guarantee goes with them that you cannot duplicate elsewhere for less than $13.00 to $15.00.

MR. HECHINGER NEVER DOES THINGS BY HALVES.

The unprecedented rush for these goods closed out a good many lots. The cry is: More! More!

That the late comers will have the benefit of Mr. H.'s liberal settlement received from the underwriters (and he makes no bones of it that he was well paid for the damages sustained), he went through his immense stock of fine clothing in his Second Street House and whenever he found a lot that the sizes were badly broken, or Suits did not match out exactly, he sent them to the Sutton Street Storeroom, where, no matter what they cost, nor how fine the quality, they will share the same fate as the damaged stock.

Don't delay if you wish to secure some of these bargains.

Hechinger!

YOUR attention just a moment. If you are contemplating the purchase of a watch, diamond or any piece of jewelry, inspect Clooney's stock, see his prices and save from 5 to 15 per cent. Next door to First National Bank.

MR. CHARLES HAWES, late of Middlesborough, succeeds Mr. William C. Curran as clerk at J. James Wood & Son's drug establishment. Mr. Curran will go to St. Louis. Mr. Hawes is a Minerva boy and was Hospital Steward of the Second Kentucky volunteers.

In a letter to the Lexington Leader concerning the Fourth Regiment boys, a correspondent of that paper says, in speaking of recent promotions: "The other promotion was that of Private Dr. Vicroy, of Company E, to the position of Regimental Hospital Steward. We have always believed Dr. Vicroy was particularly fitted by nature for this position, and it is an appointment from which no mistake can emanate."

REPRESENTATIVES PUGH and Settle saw the President Saturday in the interest of the Hon. James B. McCreary, of Richmond, who would consider the acceptance of one of the twelve commissionerships to the Paris Exposition. The President stated that he would take Mr. McCreary's name under advisement and render a decision later. He suggested to Messrs. Pugh and Settle that they get the Kentucky delegation together and call upon him in a body. The President spoke very favorably of Mr. McCreary's candidacy, and Mr. Settle believes he has a good show for spending next year in Paris.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is, "Well, how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no bowel or stomach trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They eat as though they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets furnish help for constipation and torpid liver, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Accept no substitute.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

An Excursion Train and a Local Passenger Come Together.

DOZEN PEOPLE ARE KILLED.

The Statement Issued by the Officials of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Indicates That the Disaster Was a Most Horrible One.

New York, Jan. 9.—The general offices of the Lehigh Valley gave out the following statement:

"The third section of train No. 20, which is due in New York at 1:03 p. m., collided with train No. 71, a local accommodation which left New York at 10:50 a. m., near West Dannelien station shortly after 1 o'clock.

"The eastbound train was occupied by an excursion party from Mahanoy City, Shamokin and other points in the coal regions destined to New York. Both trains were using the westbound track, on account of the eastbound track being occupied by freight trains, which temporarily had blocked the road. The engines telescoped, likewise the first car of the excursion train, resulting in the injury of 15 or more persons and the death of 12 persons."

Another Account.

New York, Jan. 9.—At 3:30 p. m. a dispatch was received from Bound Brook saying that 13 persons had been killed in the wreck and from 30 to 45 injured. Twenty-five of the injured were to be taken to Muhlenberg hospital, Plainfield, N. J., and the others were taken to Elizabethtown, N. J. There was a head-on collision between an express train known as the Hazleton express bound west, and a Bound Brook local coming east. One of the killed was a fireman named Cheshire.

A DOUBLE HEADER

Ran Into Another Passenger Train of the Union Pacific.

Sidney, Neb., Jan. 9.—At Sunol, 15 miles east of here, the Union Pacific had a bad wreck at 4:45 a. m. Train No. 3, fast passenger, Engineer Charles Eli and Engineer Reese, double-header, ran into train No. 2, Engineer Bonner. Bonner had orders to meet No. 3, and the brakeman was just in the act of opening the switch when the double-header came thundering along at 45 miles an hour, and nearly one hour late. Both trains were on the main track. The engines were badly demolished, and train No. 3 destroyed excepting mail car and one sleeper.

Engineer Bonner was internally injured and several ribs broken. Fireman Coleman was killed. Eli was scalded, but not seriously. Several passengers were badly hurt.

There were 320 passengers on train No. 3, and all but two, an old man and woman, are accounted for. They are supposed to have been killed and in the debris of the wreck.

Mr. Wilder Testifies.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Fred W. Wilder, general superintendent for Swift & Company of Chicago, appeared before the war investigating commission. The witness said he had general charge of all the packing, canning and slaughtering of cattle for the Chicago plant, and gave a general account of the practical working of the meat business. He said that all the cattle were bought from commission firms at the stock yards and given ante-mortem inspection by a government official, and then driven to the abattoir, being well cooled before killing. A skinning gang of 150 men, he said, would butcher about 120 cattle an hour. The cattle were then subjected to a post-mortem examination, also by government inspectors, who examined the lungs, liver and intestines. The company had had as many as 20 cattle a week condemned at this inspection, being about 20 out of 9,000. The condemnation was mostly due to tuberculosis.

Are Reluctant About Hillo.

Washington, Jan. 9.—A great deal of reticence is exhibited at the war department relative to the state of affairs at Hillo. It is admitted that General Otis has reported to the department the facts that were reported to him in turn by General Miller, but all that can be gathered as to the nature of the communication is that it goes to confirm the press reports as to the attitude of the insurgents. There are excellent reasons why the officials at the war department should at this stage maintain secrecy as to the instructions governing the movement of troops in the Philippines. The situation is admitted to be critical, but not hopeless by any means, and it is extremely desirable that the danger of a rupture shall not be increased by inflammatory publications, which powerfully effect the excitable Filipinos.

Business Block Burned.

West Branch, Mich., Jan. 9.—An entire block of the business portion of this town was destroyed by fire. It started in a grocery store in the block.

St. Louis, Jan. 9.—Sister Margaret Newman, 35, mother superior of the Ursuline convent, has been killed by falling from a third story window to the stone pavement. Her skull was fractured.

JACKSON'S OLD HOME.

HOW IT HAS BEEN RESTORED AND PRESERVED BY PATRIOTIC WOMEN.

The Ladies' Hermitage Association and What It Has Done For the Stately Mansion of the Hero of New Orleans—Valuable Relics.

(Copyright, 1898, by American Press Association.)

Patriotism can never be very fervid where there is not a strong regard, even veneration, for those mementos which are closely identified with stirring events in the history of one's country and with the great personages who have contributed to its success and glory. To preserve such memorials of the past is the patriotic work engaged in by the Ladies' Hermitage association, which has for its object the preservation and restoration of The Hermitage, the home and final resting place of Andrew Jackson.

The Hermitage is delightfully situated in an undulating district of Tennessee, about 12 miles from Nashville.

THE HERMITAGE.

President Jackson left no children, and in 1856 the house, tomb and 560 acres of land passed into the possession of the state. The Hermitage, however, was occupied by Andrew Jackson's adopted son and after the latter's death by his widow until she also died in 1888, when it became evident that some permanent disposition would have to be made of the property.

In 1889 the Ladies' Hermitage association was formed and indorsed by the state legislature. Four hundred and seventy-five acres of the land were set aside for the Confederate Soldiers' home, and the house, tomb and the remaining 25 acres were turned over to the association.

In accepting the gift in trust the members pledged themselves to beautify, preserve and adorn it throughout all coming years in a befitting manner. That the ladies have kept their faith a visit to this shrine of patriotism will prove beyond cavil.

The evidences of decay and the dilapidation characteristic of The Hermitage before have now disappeared. New fences and fresh paint have vastly improved the exterior aspect of the building, and falling plaster, discolored walls and rotting floors are no longer features of its interior. It was a matter of great satisfaction to the patriotic renovators that they were able to save the paper in the front hall, upon which is depicted the visit of Ulysses to Calypso's isle.

The entire hall set, comprising sofas, chairs and tables, has become the property of the association, and, rebranded as the various articles are, gives the entrance to the mansion the appearance it had when the hero of New Orleans used to live in it. In the library are many of his books, portraits of his military staff at New Orleans, a chair presented to him by Chief Justice Taney, a mahogany table used at a banquet in New Orleans, busts of Lewis Cass and Levi Woodbury and many historical documents.

A valuable relic contained in The Hermitage is a magnificent silver urn presented to Andrew Jackson by the ladies of South Carolina. A clause in his will designates that it shall be held in trust by the legislature of that state for the bravest surviving veteran of the next war. That was the Mexican war, and as it has never been claimed it will probably remain always in The Hermitage.

Above the mantel of the old mansion there hangs the portrait of the woman he loved and about whom he uttered the noblest sentiment ever spoken about one of her sex: "A being so gentle and virtuous slander might wound, but could not dishonor. Even death, when he bore her from the arms of her husband, could not transport her to the bosom of God."

ETHEL DEVERE.

Society Women Who Write.

When "Good Americans" was running anonymously in Harper's Magazine, its author, Mrs. Burton Harrison, had the peculiar pleasure of being confidentially informed by a Boston woman with whom she was dining that she (the hostess) was the writer of that delightful story. But not a few of New York's society leaders, known to their friends merely as charming hostesses and women of fashion, have brought out a book or two that has attracted not a little attention in the literary world. Another New York society woman who writes books and brings them out under a nom de plume is Mrs. Henry Siegel. Her "Juleps and Clover," the latest volume by M. Vaughan Wilde, is a charming novel of southern life, rich in dramatic situations and written with great literary skill.

Mr. Stiles has been in our neighborhood and bought several crops of tobacco at from 7 to 8 cents per pound.

In years gone by Cabin Creek bore a rather unenviable name, and perhaps there was a great deal of lawlessness along this beautiful valley, but to-day we pride ourselves as being the most peaceable, law-abiding people in Kentucky. While we are burdened with turpentine taxes even grievous to bear there remains one solitary tollgate in Mason County, in fact but one in this part of Kentucky, and that are on Cabin Creek. There she stands, pulled down on every passerby, even church-going people, and these good people never molest it, but pay the tribute. Where else could this be thus?

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

Offerings Large, But Prices Have Not Been Satisfactory—Some Grades Are Lower.

[Furnished by Glover & Durrett, Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.]

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3,266 hhds., with receipts for the same period 2,418 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 3,266 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1898 on our market to this date amount to 11,381 hhds.

New Burley—The offerings on our market the past week have been larger for the first week of the year and prices have not been altogether satisfactory. It is frequently the case that the market does not show its real strength immediately upon the opening of sales after the holiday recess, for as a rule some of the manufacturers are generally not in line to begin the full purchases at this time. Prices were a little lower on the better grades, such as are selling from $9 to $12, and slightly easier on the very common grades, such as are selling below $4, but the grades selling from $4 and $9 are firm at about such prices as were current in December.

Old Burley—The offerings of old burley were extremely small, in fact the stock of such tobacco is unusually light for the time of year. There is no change to report in the condition of the market for old burley as compared with December prices.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco (1898) crop:

The Potent Old Lady.

An old lady in a small country town has kept for the last 20 years and still keeps her accounts in doggerel verse. For example (and the specimens given are actual extracts from her books), if Mrs. Jones has half a pound of tea on "tick" it is entered thus:

Mrs. Jones doth owe to me
For half a pound of Souchong tea 1s. 4d.

Or if Mr. Smith buys a pound of sugar, two pounds of rice and a Dutch cheese the entry will be under Smith's name:

A pound of moist sugar
And two of best rice,
With four pounds of Dutch cheese,
Which I hope will be nice—1s. 11½d.

And so on all through the book. In some cases the verses express doubt as to the customer's intention or ability to pay for the goods ordered. Thus:

Lizzie Barber for her father
Had some flour today;
Some apples, too, and toilet soap,
But I don't believe he'll pay 2s. 8d.
[This bookkeeping work will drive me mad
When I think of folk like they.]

The lines in brackets are very suggestive if not exactly grammatical.—Chambers' Journal.

His Fall.

John Lancaster, the comedian, tells a story that comes all the way from Quebec. He was sightseeing with a Tommy Atkins one day while in that province, and they had as companion and guide an old soldier. When they reached the Wolfe monument, which is located on a historic spot, Tommy said, "Wot's this?"

The guide replied, "'Ere's w'ore a great 'ero fell."
"Did hit 'art 'im?" asked Tommy.
"Urt 'im!" replied the guide.
"W'y, 'ell! Hit killed 'im!"—New York Telegram.

The eagle first appeared on the seal of the United States in a design submitted to congress by William Barton of Philadelphia in 1783. The device was adopted June 20 of that year.

SYRUP OF FIGS

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—
